PAPAL JUBILEE CELEBRATIONS.

Recitation Contest.

In connection with the Papal Jubilee Celebration, an elocutionary contest was held at St. Joseph's College on Saturday evening. There was a very large attendance and the interesting programme opened with a "Patriotic March" by Professor Baptista, who presided at the piano during the evening. The chorus "Over the hills at break of day" was exceedingly well rendered by the choir. Solos were also given by Archie Logan, a boy's best friend is his mother, Edward Basto, "Take this letter to my Mother," and Rosalita Baptista, "The song that reached my heart." But the event of the evening was the elocutionary contest. There were a number of entries, the pieces being recited by Jose Rodriguez, "Burial of St. John the Baptist," Jose Lito, "The Gleaner's Wife," Joachim Chiu, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," Interior Mayer, "Catalina's Deliance," Peter Prevost, "Ireland," B. Barrenegoon, "The Agitation Bill," J. B. Nguyen, "Little Jim," Jose Baptista, "Wounded," Jose Lopez, "Speech by Lord Chatham," and the scene, from King John, Hubert and Prince Arthur, by Louis Rabat and Thomas Logan respectively. Mr. A. W. Wihler, Consul General for America, Mr. J. J. Levin, Consul General for Portugal and Brazil, Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe and Mr. G. T. Lloyd were the judges of the contest and their choice fell upon Peter Prevost who, a fortnight ago, was so nervous that he was practically unable to recite before the members of his own class. The judges also very generously gave a second prize and their choice also unanimously fell on Josephine Thuan and the way in which the decisions were received showed them to be popular ones. The choruses "Tues Petrus," "God Bless The Pope," and the National Anthem concluded a most enjoyable and educational contest and Brother Christian and his colleagues are to be congratulated in having taken such an interesting contest.

At the Roman Catholic Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, on Sunday, Pontifical High Mass was celebrated at 8.30 a.m., before a very large congregation. His Lordship Bishop of Hongkong, Victor Apostolic of Oriental Cochinchina was the Celebrant, assisted by the very Rev. Fr. De Maria (Pro. Vic.); the Rev. Frs. I. Zamponi, Maher and Vigoda, as Deacons, and all the clergy. Introit, Kyrie, Gradual, Offertory and Communion were sung by the full Sanctuary Choir, conducted by the Rev. Fr. Guineau. "Tu es Petrus" (before Mass), Gloria, Credo, Sanctus and Agnus Dei were sung by the Choir of St. Joseph's College conducted by its Director, the Rev. Bro. Christian. Mr. O. Baptista was organist. The very Rev. Fathers P. Gubardi and A. Ferraria were masters of ceremonies. The service was highly impressive. Graduals to say the Cathedral was most tastefully decorated.

To-day is the actual date set for the celebration of the Jubilee and the services at the Cathedral have been very ornate.

SCOTTISH LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

EDINBURGH, October 16.

"FADING" AT GLASGOW UNIVERSITY.
A picturesque pageant was held on Saturday in the quadrangle of Glasgow University, the main idea of it being the illustration of Early Scottish Myth and History.
The object was to provide funds to extend and develop the work of Queen Margaret College Settlement, whose various branches of charitable and social work have done much to bring sweetness and light into the lives of the masses during the past ten years. Among the most successful groups were the Celtic, whose clothing, however, to general disappointment, was much more elaborate than was expected,—the Viking, and the Early Celtic Church, the last named being accompanied by a choir chanting old religious music. There was a guard of honour of the "1st Highland Company of Baden-Powell Scouts."

DUNDEE COLLEGE CHRONICLES

On Saturday afternoon, Lady Marguerite Sinclair, the wife of the Secretary for Scotland, performed the foundation-stone ceremonies at the new Laboratories of the College of Dundee. The Physics Laboratory is being erected by Mr. Andrew Carnegie at a cost of £15,000; and the Electric Engineering Laboratory is a gift of £4000 by the sisters of the late Dean of Glasgow in memory of their brother. The work is well advanced, and, as Lord Campdown observed, "it might surprise those who were not acquainted with the celerity with which things moved in Dundee, that the building was almost complete before the foundation-stone was laid."

THE LEADER OF THE "HUNGER MARCHERS." Alexander Stewart Gray, who led the "Hunger Marchers" to Trafalgar Square, and encouraged them to "squat"—a new form of passive resistance,—on the pavement, must be well known to many Scots resident in the East. He is the son of an East Lothian farmer, and his mother is said to be descended from an early Scottish king. He was trained as a solicitor, and was a partner of Richardson and Gummell, Haddington; then of Dal-gleish, Gray, and Dobbs, Edinburgh; and afterwards of Gray and Macdonald, Edinburgh. As a lawyer, he had a great deal to do with land management and speculation, and at one time he was the trustee of some large estates. He was converted, according to his account, by reading the words of Tolstoy, Henry George, and Kropotkin; and he now tramps about the country at the head of a "squatting" party. He first came into public notice by his land-grabbing movement in Manchester, and his subsequent fast in Windsor Forest, his Canterbury exploit at the Cathedral, and his march on London.
A tall and striking personality, he is paun-ic and ascetic, with long hair and deep-set eyes; he is clothed in rough garments, a slouch hat, sometimes goes barefoot, and altogether looks the typical "socialist reformer" as depicted on the stage. Gray's idea is to get some ten thousand marchers, who will go about the country and agitate, as the result, there will come the Millennium, for we shall get "Back to the Land."

PERSONAL

The Rev. John C. Gibson, D.D., Swatow, son of the late Professor Gibson of the Free Church College, Glasgow, who has devoted his life to mission work in China, and last year presided at the great conference held at Shanghai, is at present in Glasgow.

A "Song of the Sea" has been specially written by the Duke of Argyll for the Navy League Annual, which will be published on Tuesday. The "Song of the Sea" is among the other contributors.

Lord Dundee, Lord President of the Court of Session, has been made a Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order.

Professor Ogston will resign the Chair of Surgery in Aberdeen University at the close of the present session. In order to study military surgery on the field, he went to the Sudan with the Expedition for the relief of General Gordon in 1894, and in December 1899 he went to South Africa where he did valuable service during the most arduous periods of the South African War.

Mr. R. Jamieson, of Serangoon House, Shalford, Mid Lothian, who died on 2nd September last, leaves personal estate in the United Kingdom valued at £42,005.

Mr. James McKim, M.A., Ph.D., Lecturer on History at the University of St. Andrews, has been appointed to the Chair of Ecclesiastical History in the University of Edinburgh.

MISCELLANEOUS

At a meeting of influential gentlemen representing both sides of the Border, it was resolved to erect a memorial on Flodden Field, to mark the spot on or near which the Scottish King fell.

The Thistle and Rose Lodge, No. 73, originally St Paul, Glasgow, has celebrated its jubilee with fitting Masonic honours.

The War Office is in search of a long range for the Scottish and Northern English Territorial Field Artillery. The exact spot is not yet decided upon, but it is believed that it will eventually be found on one of the slopes of the Cheviots.

The End of Mar and Kellie has presented, Alton with a wooded park on the west boundary of the town for the purposes of a recreation ground.

Mr. W. Grant Stevenson, B.S.A., has completed a statue of Burns which is to be erected in Milwaukee, U.S.A. It is of bronze, and stands twelve feet high. The donor of the monument is Mr James A.

Bryden, a native of St Mungo, near Lockhart, who has for many years been a citizen of Milwaukee.

Lord Provost and Lady Blandall gave a reception to the Glasgow section of the Franco-Scottish Society in the Council Chamber. Among the short speeches, one by Lord Remy has attracted attention. He was one of the British delegates to the Peace Conference, and he said that he left it "convinced that we ought not in any way to neglect our own armaments, and that our maritime supremacy was absolutely necessary even from the point of view of peace."

The Admiralty hope to be soon able to order a number of torpedo boat destroyers in the Clyde district. This will somewhat alleviate the distress through non-employment.

THE RETORICAL CONTENTS.

The classes in the Scottish Universities have been open for nearly a fortnight; but not yet is the session's work in full swing.
This is the year of the Rhetorical elections, and these great events in the Scottish students' lives must first be disposed of.
In Edinburgh there have been the usual excitements,—committees,—committees,— a large expenditure of pecuniary, sweat, and rotten eggs; a liberal and unusual use of whitewash; and generally all the traditional accompaniments of a jolly good time according to "Varsity rules." In Glasgow, however, there is mourning. The election there promises to be a quiet one, and awaiting in excursions and alarms. There is a lack of funds and committee-rooms.
To neither do the Conservatives plead guilty. The Conservatives naively declare that they have "a clear conscience in the matter," and that they have to suffer on account of their opponents' weakness.

In the current number of the Conservative declensionary magazine the whole position is reviewed. It is announced with the profoundest regret that there is a passing of the glorious and time-honoured "Gibson Street fights." It appears that the Conservatives stole a march on the Liberals by arranging for a lease of the "only shop where difficulties would not be raised by the surrounding tenants" but on learning that the Liberals were unable to secure rooms, the Conservatives, rather than to be balked of fun, approached some landlords in the Liberal interest. The Liberals did not receive this aid in a "brotherly spirit." Then the Conservatives followed this up with what they called a "sporting offer." The Conservatives put their rooms at the disposal of both parties, and the plan of campaign was to be as follows:—"Two ships were to be held; the Liberals would be the 'only shop where difficulties would not be raised by the surrounding
were unable to secure rooms, the Conser-

THE EMPEROR KUANG HSU.

The news of the death of the Emperor

KUANG HSU, the ninth Sovereign of the T'ing dynasty, does not possess any elements of sudden surprise. For many years his extremely delicate state of health caused much anxiety to his courtiers, while during the last few weeks the telegrams emanating from Peking regarding the Imperial invalid were rather ominous in their significance. Her-

THE EMPEROR KUANG HSU.

The news of the death of the Emperor

ominous in their significance. Her-
